RESCUED FROM A WRECKED STEAMER

Passengers and Crew of Russian Owe Their Lives to Heroic Fishermen.

FARMAN, Jan. 11.—After a night of terrible suspense, all of the passengers and crew of the French steamer Russie, which stranded near here during a violent storm Monday, have been safely landed.

As the life-line connected from the shore with the steamer parted again yesterday afternoon, when night set in no communication with the stranded steamer was possible. The last signal message read as follows: "We have not a ray of food left. Conversation prevails on board."

On receipt of this signal the fishermen made two more plucky launches of their boat, but were beaten back and as the Russie disappeared in the darkness they were apparently unable to launch their only remaining boat.

The storm raged with renewed fury during the night, and only those who were compelled to do so stayed on the shore, part of them huddled beneath a tarpaulin and others seeking refuge from the gale in the Laraman light-house.

At midnight two boats with lines attached to them were launched, but both attempts to reach the Russie were fruitless.

In the early morning hours torches were lighted at the bow of the Russie, and in response to the signal the fishermen made another effort to reach the wreck. But they were again tossed ashore and the crew of the lifeboat, who belong to the fishing village of Carro, gathered around a bonfire made of wreckage from the steamer, drenched to the skin and with teeth chattering from cold, but not discouraged. Their heroism finally was rewarded, as with daybreak the weather perceptibly moderated, the sea became calmer, and the wind having shifted from east to west, the Russie was sighted at about 6:30 A. M. put to sea again.

The spectators watched with fast-beating hearts as the boat disappeared through the waves. But once it was thought to be engulfed, but the small craft rose in sight again, approaching gradually nearer to the Russie.

Then a rope was thrown which the fishermen caught and the lifeboat soon afterward was alongside. Then above the howling wind rose cries of joy from those on board the Russie, which were re-echoed by the crowd ashore. Another boat, manned by four men, was then launched and succeeded in reaching the wrecked vessel.

A few minutes later the Carro boat left the Russie's side, heavily laden. As she approached the shore the occupants were seen to be women and one baby. The enthusiasm was delicious. The spectators plunged into the sea. Some of them dragged the lifeboat ashore and others lifted the women out of the boat and carried them in their arms through the waves to dry land.

One woman was clamped in the arms of her son, who had been waiting on shore since Monday. She swooned and had to be transported on a stretcher, hastily constructed from wreckage and covered with blankets, to the light-house.

The other women collapsed from fatigue, cold and hunger. Their haggard faces and trembling limbs told of the awful experiences they had gone through.

It was unfortunate that want of food, cold and hunger, had resulted in all the nourishment being kept at the light-house, two miles distant, for the sufferers had to walk there, assisted by their friends, before any nourishment could be administered to them.

The four-oared boat next arrived with seven more passengers, and the lifeboats then made repeated journeys from east to west, saving and sheltering all who were saved and sheltered in the light-house.

PLANNING TWENTY-MINUTE SERVICE.

Railroad Company May Soon Put an Extra Boat on Local Run.

The statement is made in railroad circles that the Southern Pacific Company will soon inaugurate a twenty-minute ferry service in the morning and afternoon in order to relieve the pressure of traffic on the boats.

One high in authority in railroad circles says that the plans for the new dual are about completed but will not be put into effect until they are approved by President Hayes.

At present the early boats in the morning and the late boats in the afternoon are badly overcrowded. Hundreds of people are compelled to stand up crossing the bay on account of lack of accommodations.

When the twenty-minute service is inaugurated on the bay there will be room for everybody to sit down.

President Hayes was asked about the matter today. He said that it was a matter of detail that he had not yet investigated. He was not yet advised as to the proposed twenty-minute ferry service.

SENATE'S DOINGS. KAISER'S ANSWER

Hoar's Amendment to the Army Bill Is Rejected. Refuses to Agree to Our Proposal in China Negotiations.

Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—Only seven Senators appeared at the Senate at the opening of today's session of the Senate. The prevailing epidemic of influenza and the inclement weather accounted for the absence of many Senators.

Mr. Carter, chairman of the Committee on Census, reported favorably the bill passed by the House making an apportionment of Representatives in the House of Representatives among the States of the Union. The Senate committee had made no amendments to the bill as passed by the House. In view of the importance of the measure, Mr. Carter asked for immediate consideration of it. Mr. Hawley, fearing that its consideration might interfere with the army reorganization bill, was inclined to object, but was prevailed upon to withhold his objection.

At the conclusion of the reading of the measure Mr. Pettus of Alabama objected to its further consideration, and it was postponed.

The resolution offered by Mr. Teller of Colorado, providing for the printing of the Philippine appeal presented yesterday was, by consent, laid over until next Monday.

Consideration was then resumed of the army reorganization bill. Mr. Hawley, chairman of the Committee on Military Affairs, withdrew the committee amendment, Section 31 of the bill, which provided for the retirement of officers on the active list of the army.

Senator Teller also withdrew his amendment to the bill.

Mr. Horner of Massachusetts formally offered the amendment of which he had heretofore given notice, providing that no military force shall be used in the Philippines except such as may be necessary to keep order in places of the peaceful occupation of the United States, etc.

Mr. Carter moved that the amendment be laid on the table. The motion prevailed, 32 to 19.

Mr. Pettigrew's amendment providing that one-third of the appointments to commissioned ranks in the regular army should be made from officers of the volunteer army—the amendment was still under discussion when the Senate adjourned last evening—was defeated, 32 to 19.

MONTANA SENATORSHIP

Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

HELENA, Mont., Jan. 11.—The Democrats circulated leaflets for a caucus on the long term Senatorship, for which W. A. Clark is the only candidate. When the meeting was called to order last night but twenty-five of the ninety-two members answered roll call, twenty-two less than the required majority to nominate and elect a Senator. An attempt to muster the requisite number, the meeting adjourned without action. The affair created a sensation, especially in that the delegation from Helena was among the absentees, this city being regarded as the Clark stronghold.

COPENHAGEN, Jan. 11.—The negotiations for the sale of the Danish West Indies to the United States are nearing by approaching a settlement. The matter has been placed in the hands of the Finance Committee of the Riksdag, with the view of arranging the difference in the price asked and offered.

The King and Ministry are in favor of the sale, but final action may be delayed by powerful opposition both in the Riksdag and here.

MINISTERS RELEASED.

Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

NEW YORK, Jan. 11.—A dispatch to the Herald from Panama, from the Herald's correspondent in Quayaguay, says that in accordance with an agreement between the Ecuadorian and the Colombian Ministers, the Colombian Ministers detained from Ecuador have provided transportation for them to the frontier. Reciprocity in this action by Colombia is expected.

CURSE FOR A JUDGE

Dramatic Statements Made in Will of the Late S. L. Rogers.

The curse of a father for the alleged ruin of his son is expressed against Superior Judge Angelotti of Marin county in the closing clause of the will of S. L. Rogers, which was filed for probate today. The arraignment of the Marin county Judge is as follows:

"Whereas, one T. M. Angelotti (a half-breed Italian) unfortunately acting as Superior Judge in Marin county, did his utmost to ruin and forever disgrace my child, Herbert, I hope, trust and wish the curse of God will follow him to an ignominious grave and the people of Marin county will ever remember his base treatment of this father and my child."

In another clause in the will Rogers says:

"To one Mary E. Rogers (nee Mary Harrington) whom I unfortunately married September 3, 1871, and was freed from September 4, 1885, as a memento for her conduct with Marino Fry and Crowley I leave my dying curse."

The estate is worth $3,555, the bulk of which is bequeathed to his son, Herbert.

George Lamont of Fairfield is attorney for the estate.

BILLS PILE UP AT LEGISLATURE.

Senators and Assemblymen are Anxious to Have New Laws Passed.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Jan. 11.—In the Assembly this morning Broughton's Assembly bill 3, appropriating $15,000 to rebuild the refractory building at the Whittier School was declared a matter of urgency. Under suspension of the Constitution it was read the second and third time and passed.

The announcement that the introduction of bills was the order of business brought every member of the Assembly to his feet. Melich received Broughton's bill, which had eleven bills attached to it, and the following were introduced in the Senate yesterday and were duplicated in the Assembly to insure their early consideration in both Houses: A. B. 4—Melich, amending the forestry act of 1872; A. B. 5—Melich, amending Section 457 of the Penal Code; A. B. 6—Melich, appropriating $500 to pay the claim of A. W. Hapetye; A. B. 7—Melich, authorizing incorporated cities and towns to clean and sprinkle streets, and to remove weeds therefrom; A. B. 8—Melich, authorizing the incurring of indebtedness by cities, towns and municipalities for municipal improvements and regulating the acquisition, construction and completion thereof; A. B. 9—Melich, regulating the sale of crude oil or petroleum that is used for illumination and fuel purposes; A. B. 10—Melich, to enforce the educational rights of children; A. PROFESSOR IN A TIGHT CORNER.

University Man Crowded to the Wall By A. A. Moore's Questions.

The exploitation of the marsh at San Lorenzo belonging to Captain William Roberts in the water case has a serious as well as a comical side. The wells that young Roberts "dotted" alternately, and which he said discharged mud balls, lava and marine shells constitute the basis of a water supply that the astute Council has staked out for the city of Oakland.

After fixing the water rate last March the Council took an option on the Captain's salt marsh and sank a well over 500 feet deep without finding any water to speak of. The option was thrown up, but a short time ago when the Water Company had nearly completed its case, the Council took another option on the marsh at the instance of City Attorney Dow and M. K. Miller, who poses as a non-chartered City Engineer. Whether it was really intended to palm this marsh off on the city or the option was renewed to serve a purpose in the water suit must be left to conjecture.

Professor Lawson of the State University has been put on the stand to prove that he knows how much water there is under the ground by observing surface indications. A. A. Moore's humorous suggestion that scientific deduction even with the aid of a witch hazel could hardly go so far as to arouse Lawyer Hayne's ire and he fiercely demanded that the other attorneys be more respectful to the professor. He was still smarting under the unmerciful gassing that McCutcheon had given young Roberts, who gallantly stated that he knew the well passed through limestone because he tasted the borings and they didn't taste like lime, and he wanted to protect his expert from being exposed to like ridicule.

It further appeared that the famous "66 well" which Captain Roberts described as casting up balls of galvanized iron to such an extent that he quit using it in alarm now only flows a tiny stream through a half-inch hole in the broken casing.

All the other wells except the two new ones appear to be afflicted with some ailment that interferes with the free discharge of water. But Professor Lawson is supposed to tell how much water can be found there. Others familiar with the place say that a continuous pumping under forced draught is likely to produce any quantity of water but that it will be salt the suction drawing it from the San Leandro Bay. But those persons do not have salt marshes to sell the city, nor have they been able to discern evidences of volcanic action in the vicinity of Roberts' Landing.

The lawyers baited Professor Lawson some more this morning. However, the geologist did not seem to mind it as much as the sneering attorney for the city.

Prior to beginning the examination Mr. McCutcheon stated that Mr. Bingham was laboring under a mistake in charging that the blue point of the Alvarado well district was abstracted from his office. Inquiry showed that Mr. Bingham had given them to one of the city's experts under the mistaken impression that Engineer Boardman had given his consent thereto. It was a mistake on the part of Mr. Bingham, and Mr. McCutcheon said he made the statement in justice. The city's expert said the character of any accumulation could be satisfactorily determined by observation and reasoning from analogies. Geologists say that given conditions and indications will always show the character of the accumulations underneath.

Hayne asked if there was a subterranean stream under the general territory around the San Francisco bay.

Moore objected on the ground that this included widely separated points while the inquiry was directed to ascertaining what was beneath the surface at Roberts' Landing. It included Pleasanton, which was separated from the Alameda basin by a mountain range. San Lorenzo was several miles from Alvarado and Alvarado was some four or five miles from Niles. Yesterday the Professor stated that Niles was from five to eight miles from San Lorenzo.

Hayne signified the objection as dilatory, which provoked the sharp retort from Moore that he did not propose to permit such epithets to be applied to his objections. The objection was overruled.

IN A GENERAL WAY

Professor Lawson went on to tentatively describe the general geological features of an artesian basin and expressed the opinion that the region around San Francisco had underground reservoirs or subterranean streams which could be drawn upon.

"But to what extent is another question," he added. "The precise boundaries of this artesian district, or 'troughs,' he called it, could not be stated, he said.

"What is the quantity of water that can be supplied, in your opinion, from these underground reservoirs or subterranean streams. State it in quantities, gallons if you can?" asked Hayne.

"This question exposes the fundamental weakness of this testimony," said McCutcheon. "The witness is asked to give a mere speculation as to how much water can be obtained from 'troughs,' underground reservoirs, subterranean streams and whatnot in a wide range of territory. He is asked to give it in gallons without limitation as to depth or special locality. It is an insult to the intelligence of any court to ask it to hear such statements as evidence."

"I desire to protect the witness from the imputation of counsel," said Hayne in a nettled tone.

"It is no imputation on the witness to say that his speculations cannot be accepted as evidence as to the facts in this case," replied McCutcheon. "Then the lawyers gabbled angrily together."

THERAPEUTICS OF GEOLOGY.

Hayne charged Moore with trying to insult a gentleman who had been a professor of geology in the State University for ten years.

"Because he is a professor of geology does not prove that he is competent to measure underground water that has never been tested," rejoined Moore sarcastically. "The court said he would like to hear what the professor had to say on the subject."

"Now for the gallons," chipped Moore.

The Professor said he had made some estimates of the storage capacity of the gravels in the section opposite Niles Canyon from data.

"What data did you use?" asked McCutcheon.

"Witness said he used the blue points which the city's experts had got from Mr. Bingham of the water company."

"Did you make those points?"

"No."

"Do you know that they are correct?"

"No."

An objection that witness knew nothing of the correctness of the data, and the data themselves were not shown to be correct.

Justice Hest overruled the objection, and Professor Lawson said that in a region eight or ten square miles sloping to the east from Niles he estimated the gravel to have a storage capacity of "ten thousand million gallons."

"He said he considered this amount as the available supply."

"Is it a continuous supply?"

"That depends upon replenishment."

"Is it replenished by rainfall?"

"Yes."

"Can it be calculated that the rainfall will make an average replenishment?"

"Is that geology?" asked McCutcheon. "Does geology teach what will be the average rainfall or whether enough rain will fall to replenish an underground reservoir after it is exhausted?"

STORAGE CAPACITY NOT SUPPLY.

The Professor stated that the storage capacity represented the quantity of water that could be held in reserve in the gravel but did not represent the amount of continuous flow. When the water was drawn off then the replenishment which was governed by the average rainfall would constitute the steady supply.

In the Niles basin, which he estimated to embrace about 5,000 acres, he said the borings showed an average thickness of water bearing gravel down to sea level, and in his opinion the wells on the Roberts' March map had this basin. With a sufficient number of wells properly distributed he thought a supply could be developed there similar to the one developed at Alvarado. All this was stated in the raised cantal tone of a teacher addressing a class and was reeled off in the offhand manner of the professional lecturer.

NOT A WELL DIGGER.

"Does the science of geology teach a man to dig wells?" asked Moore at the opening of the cross-examination.

"Borings of the earth is not a geological expression," snapped the witness. "It is a sort of well digger expression," added Moore.

"I'm not a well digger," retorted the geologist.

"Does geology enable you to discern the thickness of the earth?"

"In a general way, yes."

"Does it enable you to tell where there are deposits of oil stored in sand?"

"I don't say that."

"Has any oil well or paying bed of oil in California been discovered by the aid of geology?"

"I have not interested myself in that branch of inquiry."

"Do you know of a single successful oil well bored in California on the advice of a geologist?"

"I don't recall any."

GEOLOGISTS NOT OIL EXPERTS.

"Are geologists not competent then to give advice in regard to oil deposits?"

"They have saved me from spending money foolishly."

"Did not the professors and others of the State University at Berkeley run a number of tunnels to get water and failed to get any?"

"I believe so."

"What was the cause of failure?"

"In my opinion the failure was due to the fact that the geological department was overlooked in the matter."

"Were you there at the time?"

"I was."

DID NOT MAKE MEASUREMENTS.

Professor Lawson said he had not taken measurements of the elevation at Niles and the Niles, nor had he made personal tests as to the extent and thickness of the underground gravel bed.

"Did you examine the wells at Niles?"

"No."

"Do you know of a flowing well at Niles?"

"No."

"Do you know of a flowing well within five miles of Niles?"

"No."

The professor said the continuous flow of the artesian basin was regulated by the average rainfall in the drainage area that feeds the gravel channels.

"If this drainage area is small the continuous flow will be proportionately small, will it not?"

"Certainly."

A DISSERTATION ON CLAY.

Professor Lawson said Clay was a composite of fine silt or sediment and sand. Properly speaking clay was known which is decomposed feldspar.

Moore then led him with the aid of rough drafts on the blackboard to describe the formation of the underlying clay beds from Niles to the bay shore, and then asked if the clay beds under the bay did not rest on the bed rock. But the professor balked; he would not give a direct answer, and the attorney dropped the inquiry, and made a witness describe the general configuration of the gravel bed near Niles.

Then things began to happen to the professor. Moore drew a diagram on the blackboard of the throw out from the mouth of Niles Canyon which he called a fan. Then the professor called it an alluvial cone. It looked like a cake of maple sugar. Deane shared marked on the northern boundary. Irregular on the southeastern border and Centerville at the southwestern extremity, and asked the witness if that did not represent his artesian gravel bed.

"I can't tell without looking at the map."

"You have been all over that region, don't you know?"

"I would prefer to look at a map before answering."

"This witness is testifying to the contents of a map," interrupted McCutcheon.

"Do you know anything of your own knowledge that is not on a map?" asked Moore.

"I think so," answered the professor with a disdainful sniff. "Maybe as much as I know."

THE COLLEGE MAN WALKED.

"Do you know where San Lorenzo Creek breaks through the mountains to the north of Niles?"

"Yes."

"There is a fan or cone as you call it radiating from the mouth of San Lorenzo Canyon, is there not, similar to the one at the mouth of Niles Canyon?"

"Yes."

"Of the same general character?"

"Yes."

"It is supplied by a much less drainage area than the one at Niles Canyon, is it not?"

"The drainage area is much smaller."

"Will it supply one-fourth as much water as the drainage area of Niles Canyon?"

"I should think not."

"Will it supply one-eighth as much?"

"I could not say exactly how much."

"Between the San Lorenzo Canyon and Niles Canyon there is a mountain range that cuts into the valley, is there not?"

"Yes, I think so."

"Did you ever go over the road between Niles and Hayward?"

"Yes, I walked it."

"Is it not hilly?"

"I wouldn't call it hilly."

"What is it?"

"It is undulating."

"Is it not up and down all the time?"

"It undulates."

"Is there ten feet of level road the whole way?"

"I should think you could find ten feet that is comparatively level."

"It is about nine miles from Niles to Hayward, is it not?"

"I will accept that."

"How far is the distance?"

"About that."

"Is it not up and down over mountain spurs all the way?"

"I wouldn't call them mountain spurs."

"What direction is Hayward from Niles?"

"West of north."

A SCIENTIST IN THE TROUGH.

"How far is San Lorenzo from Hayward?"

"About four miles."

"What direction is it?"

"North of west."

"Is it not about due west?"

"I think it is a little north of west."

By this time the object of Moore's line of cross-examination became obvious, and it also appeared obvious that he had crowded the geologist into a very dangerous corner. The point is that the wells at Alvarado and along the Alameda (Continued on page 7)

RELiance BOXING.

An unusually fine card of sport will be offered at the Reliance Club's headquarters tonight, when two ten-round preliminaries and one fifteen-round contest will be the main feature.

Joe Sullivan and Bobby Martin, both clever boxers of San Francisco, will meet in a ten-round go at 123 pounds, and Bonar Wilt, one of the best men of the San Francisco athletic club, will be pitted against Pat Malloy of Pittsburgh.

The event of the evening, however, will be the mill between George Baker of San Jose and Tommy Cox of Australia. Both are exceptionally clever men in the ring. They will box at 123 pounds. Much interest is manifested in this fight. Members will be admitted free but outsiders will be charged 3c.

SHIRLEY COMPANY.

The Shirley Company repeated its artistic production of "Tribby" at the Macdonough Hotel last night to a good house. Jessie Shirley, the title role, showed an intelligent conception of the part and the skill to embody her conception in a striking and pathetic portrayal of the lovable artist's model. The other roles were all in good hands, and the performance was an enjoyable one in every respect. The Shirley Company came to Oakland as strangers, but their excellent work has won for them so many admirers that they will be warmly welcomed when they return again. Tonight "The Ugly Duckling" will be the bill.

Suit Against City Ended.

The case of A. B. Bowers vs. the city of Oakland, Atlantic Gulf and Pacific Company, Oakland Iron Works, Pacific Improvement Company, Tulton Engineering and Shipbuilding Works and W. H. Concanan which have been pending in the United States Circuit Court for several years have been dismissed. The litigation was based on the alleged infringement of Bowers' patent on a dredger.

Nile Club Directors.

The Nile Club will hold its annual meeting and election of directors tomorrow night in the new club rooms in the Union Hotel at Twelfth and Washington streets.

So far as known there will be no contest over any of the offices, and most likely those who have conducted the affairs of the club successfully the past term will be re-elected as follows:

Abe P. Leach, president; W. H. Hume, secretary; Ben F. Woolner, financial secretary; T. M. Umphred, treasurer; A. H. Bred, director.

IT IS THE DUTY OF EVERY REPUBLICAN TO VOTE AT THE 1901 NAUT' ELECTION TOMORROW.

Local Librarians Honored.

The annual meeting of the State Library Association was held last night in the California Hotel, San Francisco. Among the librarians present were C. S. Greene of the Public Library of this city, who was elected president of the society, F. B. Graves of the Alameda Public Library, who was elected secretary. At the banquet which followed speeches were made by a number of people, among them Librarian Rowell of the State University.

was nothing like this one. The Fourth of July celebration occupied three floors of the building where we had our rooms, but the Admission day entertainment was in the United States Administration building.

"At the Admission day celebration not less than 3,500 Americans visited the rooms, and it seemed as if we were back in the United States again. We desired to show our appreciation of the Native Sons in this celebration, and the Bear flag was displayed on the place. Our idea was to advertise California, and we took it that that was what the people wanted to be done with the money. We advertised California as no other State was ever advertised, and I think the entertainment, public and private, that the commission gave to the visitors did more to make the State remembered than the exhibits in the big Exposition."

THE REPORT.

The synoptical report of the Paris Exposition Commission to the Governor is as follows:

SAN FRANCISCO, January 5, 1901.

Henry T. Gage, Governor of the State of California: Pursuant to an act of the Legislature, passed at the session of 1899, relating to the preparation, forwarding, installing, maintaining and returning an exhibit of the products of the State of California, at the Paris Exposition in 1900. Also for preparing and printing literature for distribution at said Exposition, and providing a commission and expense of commission and attaches. (Approved March 20, 1899.)

Carrying out the provision of said act, it was your pleasure to name as such commissioners, F. W. Runyon of Red Bluff, W. W. Foote of Oakland and Major Ben C. Truman of Los Angeles. Immediately upon receipt of their commissions these gentlemen proceeded to organize by the election of H. W. Runyon as president and elected Varney W. Gaskill as their secretary.

The exhibits of this State were collected with the utmost care, and duly forwarded and handsomely installed in the different departments and pavilions at the Paris Exposition, namely, Horticulture, Agriculture, Mining, Forestry and Fishery; these being the five groups in which the California Commission exerted all their energies.

This State was allotted six jurors, one for each of these industries, and one for the department of Chemistry, the different groups were divided into 105 different classes, of which California had a splendid representation in twenty-four of them. This State had an elegant display consisting of a full line of all varieties of dried, canned, preserved, fresh as citrus fruits, raisins, nuts, olives, etc., cereals, wool, woods, leather, perfumery, soap, education, social economy and varied industries.

The following summary of awards speaks for itself: Out of a total of 57 exhibitors from this State 563 received awards at the hands of the International Jury, thus it will be seen that of all our exhibitors 98 per cent received awards, while only 56 per cent of the world's exhibitors received any mention. Included in these awards the State of California secured a grand prize for its collective exhibits in each of the five departments above mentioned, and an additional gold medal on separate exhibits in these and other departments. California exhibits were distributed in the different departments and grouped with similar exhibits of the world. Attractive signs were placed conspicuously over California exhibits directing the visitors to our State display, which had been artistically arranged, and the name of California soon became a household word.

Another feature of the commission's work, and which brought great prominence to the State, was the headquarters, bureau of information, collection of exhibits and offices, maintained at 8 Place du Louvre, Paris, which drew thousands of visitors of all nationalities seeking information of the resources of our State. It can be stated this was the only State in the Union that maintained such headquarters outside of the Exposition.

An efficient corps of assistants familiar with the resources of our great State and conversant with the French, German, Spanish and Italian languages were always on hand at these headquarters to furnish any information required, also to

A SOUR STOMACH Is Often the Real Cause of a Sour Temper.

That the condition of the digestive organs has a marked effect upon the character or disposition is a truism as old as the hills. Old Ben Johnson wisely said "the picture of living depends upon the liver" it is a fact which none may dispute that a sunny disposition more often results from a healthy digestion than from a healthy digestion than from any other cause.

Acid dyspepsia, commonly called sour stomach or heartburn, is caused by slow digestion of food; instead of being promptly digested and converted into blood, bone and muscle, it lies in the stomach for hours, fermenting and decaying, creating gases which cause pressure on the lungs and heart, short breath and general discomfort and irritation.

Such half digested food is indeed poor nourishment for the body, brain and nerves, and the result is shown in irritable tempers, unaccountable headaches and that depressing condition usually called the "blues" but how quickly all these disappear when appetite and digestion are restored to normal. Luxuriant medicines only irritate the already irritated stomach and bowels and have no effect upon actual digestion of food.

The suitable course to follow is to make use of simple natural digestive aids like Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets after meals until the stomach has a chance to recuperate.

The natural digestives which every healthy stomach contains are pepsin, diastase and Hydrochloric and lactic acids and when any of them are lacking the trouble begins; the reason Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are so valuable and successful in curing stomach troubles is because they contain, in a pleasant concentrated tablet form all these absolutely necessary essentials for perfect digestion and assimilation of food.

Henry Kirkpatrick of Lawrence, Mass., says: "Men and women whose occupation is of a sedentary nature, and whose life should make it a daily duty to use Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets after meals, I have done so myself and I know positively that I owe my present health and vigor to their daily use."

"From the time I was 22 when I graduated from school with broken health from overwork until I was 31, I scarcely knew what it was to be free from stomach weakness. I had no appetite whatever for breakfast and very little for any other meal.

"I had acidity and heartburn nearly every day and sometimes was almost unable to sleep. I was very nervous and irritable and my digestion disappeared after I began using Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. I can now eat my meals with relish and satisfaction which I had not known since I was a growing boy."

The success and popularity of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is world-wide, but it is deserved, and every doctor in the United States, Canada and Great Britain has a good word for this meritorious preparation.

WISE LANDLADY.

Understands How to Increase Her Business.

The landlady of a certain restaurant in Brockton, Mass., has increased her business so rapidly that she has had to enlarge her dining room to accommodate the continually increasing patronage. One of her guests gives the reason.

"Every morning she serves her regular guests with Grape-Nuts and hot milk or hot cream in cold weather and cold cream in summer. I began eating this food, and right away began to feel an improvement in my health. I had been terribly troubled with nervousness and dyspepsia and found it impossible to find a food that would agree with me, until I began boarding at this restaurant.

"The new food, in four months, increased my weight from 120 pounds to 145, and I never felt as well in my life as I do now. There is something remarkable in the sustaining power of this food. I have never been able to obtain such results from any other." G. R. Hersey, 23 L street, Brockton, Mass.

assist Californians in and about Paris, also to furnish them with data as to where our exhibits at the Exposition could be found, and give them all information while in Paris.

There was also maintained a commercial bureau, whose function it was to distribute throughout Europe albums and maps printed in French, English and German illustrative of the resources of this State. It is pleasing to note in this connection that over 30 answers were received from Boards of Trade and Chambers of Commerce, acknowledging receipt of these maps and albums, and thanking this commission for their courtesy in the matter, and also rearing the commission that the maps would be prominently displayed on their walls.

This commission has fully demonstrated that many products of this State are now in the markets of France, and that by further enterprise of our producers many others can be successfully and profitably sold there.

Of the $120,000 appropriated by our Legislature, which was turned over to this commission, about $100,000 will have been expended when this commission shall have finished their work, thus leaving a balance of about $20,000 to be turned back to this State Treasury. This commission will render a full and complete report of all its proceedings from the organization to the closing of its affairs, so that the people of this State may have a full report of how the money was expended and the affairs managed.

HOME FOR GIRLS.

Mrs. F. M. Smith Will Erect House and Pay Bills for Maintenance

Mrs. F. M. Smith, wife of the "Boxing King" of Eighth avenue, East Oakland, has decided upon the erection of a home for girls. Rough drawings of a structure for this purpose have been prepared and will soon be submitted to her for approval. Their acceptance, however, Mrs. Smith does not intend to take upon herself.

She will call to her assistance in this respect a number of society ladies in whose judgment she has confidence. The home will not be an orphanage, but rather a place where young women who have gone out into the world may find the comforts which they have left behind them in their own homes.

The means for sustaining the home will be supplied by Mrs. Smith, as will also be the cost of construction. It is not as yet known where the home will be located.

GOL. BULLOCK'S FIGURES.

Senator Taylor and Assemblyman Knowland will introduce a bill at Sacramento to regulate the fees of Justices of the Peace and Constables. County Examiner Bullock supplied them with all the data for the bill. The proposed schedule is as follows:

For township of 25,000 population or over (Oakland), $200 per month. Townships having a population of over 15,000 and under 25,000 (Alameda and Berkeley), $150 per month. Townships having a population of over 1,000 and under 15,000 (Eden, Murray and Washington), $50 per month. In the case of Brooklyn Township it is proposed to create two courts, one at the upper end of the township and one near Elmhurst.

The justices are all to get their regular fees in civil cases. The salaries of constables are to be as follows: Townships with a population of 25,000 or over, $125 per month; townships with a population between 15,000 and 25,000, $75 per month; townships with a population of between 1,000 and 15,000, $50 per month. All constables are to get the fees now allowed by law in civil cases.

COPPER KING'S SUIT.

George W. Hull, the Arizona copper king, has brought suit against the Oakland Bank to recover $5,000 which he deposited there to the credit of his former wife. He alleges that the deposit was made under the impression that the woman was his legal wife, and submits that since the courts have dissolved the marriage on the ground of the woman's fraud the money should be adjudged to belong solely to him.

CALIFORNIA AT PARIS EXPOSITION.

W. W. Foote Tells of Our State Made a Work Done By the Grand Showing at Commission. the Fair.

The California Paris Commission has made a synoptical report to the Governor. A more detailed report will be made later on. The present report, however, shows the fine work done by the commission.

One of the results is unusual, especially in view of the fact that the State and private exhibitors from the State took so many of the awards given at the Exposition. Of the $120,000 appropriated by the Legislature for the furtherance of the work of the commission, that body will turn back to the State, after paying all bills of every sort whatever, the sum of $15,500. In addition to this every specimen which had been placed in charge of the commission has been returned to its owner without the loss of as much as 1 cent. When it is remembered that thousands of dollars' worth of specimens sent to the World's Fair at Chicago were lost and never recovered, this particular instance will serve to show how closely the commission watched its affairs in Paris.

Out of a total of 57 exhibitors from California 563 received awards at the hands of the International Jury. The State of California received five awards of the Grande Prix in five collective exhibitions and five additional gold medals in Education, Social Science, Maps of California, Dried Fruits and University Plans. One-third of all the gold, silver and bronze medals awarded to the United States was awarded to California and her citizens, 98 per cent of the exhibits from California taking prizes.

In addition to the regular exhibits of the commission an efficient corps of assistants conversant with the various European languages was constantly on hand to tell of the resources of the State to all who cared to listen. A commercial bureau was also maintained, the function of which was to distribute throughout Europe pamphlets, books and maps showing the resources of the State.

W. W. Foote said yesterday, in speaking of the work done by the commission: "We tried to make the name of California known all over Europe. We went there to advertise California, and did it in every way that we thought would bring the best results. In addition to the exhibits at the Exposition, we secured a splendid suit of rooms on the Place de l'Opera and entertained all who visited us there. The rooms were always open to visitors, and Americans, and especially Californians, always found a welcome there. Thousands of people from all parts of the world were entertained in the rooms of the commission, and we did our best to make California a household word across the water. On the Fourth of July we gave an entertainment that will be remembered for many years to come in Paris. We secured from the official permission to erect a band stand in the street opposite our rooms, this being the only time in the history of Paris that such permission has been given. On this stand we had Sousa's band playing from 10 to 11 o'clock, and it attracted as big a crowd as could get in at the streets. We employed 200 policemen at an expense of 20 francs, to keep a narrow pathway to the door of our headquarters. There were not less than 25,000 people packed in the street listening to the music, and inside the rooms the crush was something wonderful. Fully 4,000 Americans came by invitation to the rooms and were entertained in a Californian manner. Ross Haida and two other singers were there and sang at intervals.

"The band stand on the street was decorated with American and California colors and covered with electric lights. The words 'United States' and 'California' were emblazoned on the top so everyone could see them. I never saw such a crowd in my life, and they seemed to enjoy the spectacle from beginning to end. As we were not satisfied regarding calling on the State to pay for this band and street display, I went out among the Californians and raised $10,000 within an hour. This paid Sousa. We had another entertainment on Admission day, but it

LEGISLATORS ARE DOWN TO WORK.

Many Bills Were Intro- Speaker Pendleton Reduced in Both members Friends Houses. on Committees.

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 11.—Something of a stampede for home took place yesterday afternoon, after the noon recess. Organization of the two House committees, which will be completed at any rate of the announcement of the House Committee, and a good many men decided to leave for their homes. It may be that the day is long. Some of them went for good, their labors having been completed when Speaker Pendleton was elected and his committee organized. The day is completed. John C. Lynch, of the Internal Revenue office and Edward Conner, Colonel Burns' confidential man, returned to the bay with new laurels as political managers. They handled the interests of the Burns men with great skill. They were not so easily and so quickly recognized and indignity used to point which the Burns men used to observe the defeat of Alden Anderson's motion to adjourn.

"Corney" Pendleton, a true and tried adherent of the absent Colonel Attorney-General, Throckmold and his friends, returned to the bay after a brief stay in the capital, the course of which the Attorney-General had given his attention to certain bills which he desired to have made law. He had been in the capital from a point of attending all legislative sessions, has been here a few days, but returned to the bay yesterday afternoon. He is very much interested in the proposed track bills, but this is denied by those who have these matters in charge. The bill, which is before the committee to pool selling, will aim to have a bet set for racing at any track in the State. Fifty days is the period now proposed. It is opposed by the Oakland track people, as State Legislation on this subject would serve to take inclosure out of the hands of the State and place it in the hands of the owners of two tracks on the peninsula in opposition to the one in Alameda county. It is not thought that any bill will be introduced for racing for two tracks in the State can be put through this Legislature.

sembly, which was called to order at 5 o'clock, quite a spirited discussion took place among the members of the minority over the question of appointing a stenographer for the Democrats. Some of them wanted a stenographer, and some of them wanted a stenographer. A resolution was put in to appoint a young man to that office. Cowan of Santa Rosa objected, but the resolution to appoint was carried.

It was at this session that Speaker Pendleton handed down his appointments of committees. Following is the list:

he was slating the chairmen of the standing committees. In the southern delegation there were two men who were adamant in their opposition to the election of Pendleton. Mellick of Pasadena was the first to lead the revolt against the Pendleton plan, and he had an able second in Clark of Ventura. In past sessions Mellick has been chairman of some very important committees, but this time he finds that he has no chairmanship swung to his belt. It is told some other members from the South that they were very foolish to fancy that Pendleton could be elected, and now those members smirk when they see Mr. Mellick go by Clark stood up with the very loud, voting against Pendleton in caucus.
Clark still stands with Mellick

In the number of chairmanships he received at the hands of Mr. Pendleton. Except in these and a very few other instances Speaker Pendleton has given the members what they wanted as closely as it was possible for him to do.

R. C. BEGGS' DEFALCATION.

The suit of the National Brewing Company against Peter Calou has been transferred from San Francisco to this county. It involves the peculations of R. C. Beggs, who was the company's Oakland agent and who mysteriously disappeared last October without settling with his principal. Calou was on Beggs' bond for $1,000, and it is for this amount that suit is brought.
